I dreamt i saw you And you were happy But part of me died with your sadness But don't call me cruel I've grown very used to being needed As your soldier To the end I like to keep you Nestled beneath me For security But you're not happy I dreamt i let you Decide to leave me It wasn't worth it You didn't need me Don't ever tell me There's life without me I'd have no purpose And still feel empty I like to keep you Nestled beneath me For security But you're not happy
