Come on you faker Don't you turn your back on me I'm not your gaoler Fly away on your silver wings With your golden key

Look out you loser I can almost smell the defeat All night manoeuvre Trying to set this trouble and problem free

I can't believe you're giving it all up over me So you can get back to where you should be Back to what you really believe What you really believe

Come on you joker What you hiding up your sleeve? So hard to please you Lay your burden down on me If it's what you need

I can't believe you're giving it all up over me So you can get back to where you should be Back to what you really believe What you really believe

Life has a way that's unpredictable But you can't stand and wait on a miracle Life has a way that's unpredictable Can't stand and wait on a miracle

Come on you faker
