

Thru The Window Of My Mind

Beth Hart

I could fly away
And leave it all behind
I could take a train
But I would rather fly

I could escape thru the window of mind
But I would never leave you behind
I've seen the place where the broken people hide
I wanna know love before I die
Open the window
Open the window

I could steal a plane
The stars the moon the rain
I will make a change
I'd give anything

I could escape thru the window of mind
But I would never leave you behind
I've seen the place where the broken people hide
I wanna know love before I die

I'm waiting, I'm waiting
For something, for nothing
I'm ready, I'm ready now

Open the window
Open the window
Open the window

I could escape thru the window of my mind
But I would never leave you behind
I've seen the place where the broken people hide
I wanna know love before I die

Open the window
Open the window
Open the window