

Parasite

Betraying the Martyrs

It's like we're trapped inside an empty room
No light of day, a single ray, could break this feeling of doom
I look across, who do I see, it's you and only you
But I ain't taking this, no not this time
You turn my mind into an ugly sight
You better run and fucking hide

Let's settle the score, we're going to war
I'm over falling for your fucking traps
It's taking control, destroying my soul
I'll feel better once these walls collapse

I'll give the devil my taunted soul
Before I let you take control
No more begging on my knees
It's time you slipped into eternal sleep
I'd rather burn in a sea of flames
Than be pulled into your twisted games
Close your eyes and go to sleep
Close your eyes and go to sleep

You're nothing but a parasite
It's time to kiss your ass goodbye

Let's settle the score, we're going to war
I'm over falling for your fucking traps
It's taking control, destroying my soul
I'll feel better once these walls collapse

I am the boss, and it's time to cut you off
Life must go on but, I will never forget

Back when we were young
When you didn't have much to say
When we were young
You'll pull me under but not today

Let's settle the score, we're going to war
I'm over falling for your fucking traps
It's taking control, destroying my soul
You took my life, now I'm taking it back

I'm taking it back
I'm taking it
