

The Great Disillusion

Betraying the Martyrs

How could I have been
So fucking blind?!

Look out,
Look out,
Look by your side,
Sometimes the devil wears a pretty disguise,
So reach out,
Cry out,
Open my eyes,
Show me my future
Before I kiss it goodbye

And you told me we could fly,
So I hold on and once again,
Once again I leave it all behind,
You told me we could swim,
So I climbed so high up
To a mountain for you,
I closed my eyes,
And I took the dive

How can I make up
For all this lost time?!

The scent of home sweet home
Now bears the bitterest smell,
And the land I was meant to love
Feels like a short stay in hell,
Feels like a short stay in hell
It's time to let go

You told me we could fly,
So I hold on and once again,
Once again I leave it all behind,
You told me we could swim,
So I climbed so high up
To a mountain for you,
I closed my eyes,
And I took the dive

How can I make up
For all this fucking lost time?
That I'll never ever get back.
25 to life, I thank you for,
Thanks for wasting my time,
Time I'll never ever,
Ever ever get back!

How could I have been
So fucking blind?!

You told me we could fly,
So I hold on and once again,
Once again I leave it all behind,
You told me we could swim,
So I climbed so high up

To a mountain for you,
I closed my eyes,
I've been so fucking blind
