Trapped Inside Me

Better Luck Next Time

I'm far from the world that's been trapped inside me Living in the make-believe Someone pick me up faster than I fell behind Another night I'm all alone, direction isn't what I know Somehow, someway, I relive thoughts of yesterday And my influential voice, telling me I have no choice Somehow, someway, I'll find the light that leads the way And now my time is running out, I still don't know what I'm abo ut Somehow, someway, I still don't know the words to say Take a ride with me tonight; this isn't home, this can't be rig ht Goodbye today, I'll soon be on my way When you've given up all hope, there's nothing left to try When you're giving up there's nothing left to feel on the insid е When regret is all you've got, you believe it, but it's not

Look outside your window, it's time to let go; we all have the time So give it up before you fall behind
