

The One

Betty Who

Ooh yeah yeah, oh

So young, naive, when we took the leap
Wanted to be everything you wanted
One house, two cars, three years for us
I don't think you know how good you got it

You painted me a picture, I really tried to be her
And I cried a river for you
You think you got it so hard, I think you got a cold heart
Wanna hear the worst part? Do you?

If I'm not the one, good luck finding something better
Gave you all my love, are you crazy? Boy, you
Better recognize that you're wasting all my time
If I'm not the one

You talk so tough, sit down, grow up
I don't need this foolishness around me
'Cause it's my house, my life, and you kill my vibe
Now I know I'll never make you happy

So let me paint you a picture
I'm tired of trying to fix ya
I'm not crying a river for you

If I'm not the one, good luck finding something better
Gave you all my love, are you crazy? Boy, you
Better recognize that you're wasting all my time
If I'm not the one

One
One

If I'm not the one for you, good luck
Finding better love won't be enough
You're all out of time, you're wasting mine, boy
If I'm not the one

If I'm not the one, good luck finding something better
Gave you all my love, are you crazy? Boy, you
Better recognize that you're wasting all my time
If I'm not the one
If I'm not the one (One, oh baby)
(If I'm not the one for you, good luck)
Good luck finding something better
Gave you all my love, are you crazy? Boy, you
(Finding better love won't be enough)
Better recognize that you're wasting all my time
(You're all out of time, you're wasting mine, boy)
If I'm not the one
