

The Afterlife

Beyond Creation

The symbiosis of genetic molecules that transcends
Revealing memories of a previous life
I'm questioning myself about the secrets of an unknown theory
Towards a temporal spiritual displacement

Genetically modified organism
Brought to life by our own creations
Is a connection by science into time
Guided by the fear of extinction
To achieve an improbable prophecy
We are ready to sacrifice anything
In search of a place of survival for the human race

Biodiversity leads me to believe in an afterlife
That will eternally renew
As human to our change
Through time we'll remain
