

You're So Important

Beyond Possession

You're so important
The words you say can't be ignored
I laugh because it's funny
When I see you lying out on the floor
You want people to stare at your body
When you pass them by
The thing I'm wondering is
When are you going to try

Just a statement social scene
You'd better wake up stupid dream
What makes you lead society?
What makes you better
Than my friends and me?

Reality is rough especially
When you can't see inside
The thing I'm wondering is
What are you going to do
When you lose your pride
Got so much but really
You don't have anything
So welcome back to being a human being
