

Lurking Fantasia

Beyond Twilight

Silver Moon is falling.
The sky is turning red.
Silence deafens my ears,
but still I hear her voice.
My journey must go on.
White ashes whispering her,
and I hear other thoughts.
The wolf in her, I steal her.
The candles light the fall.
With faces rising, the shining door's about to close.
Trapped inside a circle, the Devil in my eyes.

In my dreams her cries are laughter, laughter.
Lives torn apart.
Lurking fantasia.
Black before my eyes.
Guess what? It never dies.

Black before my eyes.
Guess what? Guess what? Guess what? Guess what?

Lives torn apart.
Lurking fantasia.
Black before my eyes.
Guess what? It never dies.
See, the Sun is coming nearer.
I can't remember the day.
See, the Sun nears, coming nearer.
Your curse makes you smile. Frozen.
Your curse makes you smile. Frozen.
Your curse makes you smile. Frozen.
Into my mind.
Your curse makes you smile. Frozen.
Your curse makes you smile. Frozen.
Your curse makes you smile. Frozen.
Into my mind.
Black turns to fire. I see the one light.
So be it. The black flame, it darkens for me.
I know we belong together.
So it shall be forever.
We shall meet again. [Repeat 5x]
Raindrops fall on me.
Raindrops on my face.
Another change of season.
Is it sadness? Is it joy?
You know the answers. I hold the key.
The clock is ticking. But time passes by without it.
What if time was reversed?
What if time went away?
What if there is no time?
What if there is not any time?
Raindrops drip away.
Raindrops on my face.
Twilight is a change of season.
Enter into our realm...
I'm going to die.
Lives torn apart.

Lurking fantasia.
Black before my eyes.
Guess what? It never dies.
