My Last Old Dollar

Bill Monroe

I wrote to my girl last night I wrote to my girl last night I wrote to my girl that I was comin' home But my last old dollar is done gone

Oh my last old dollar is done gone Oh my last old dollar is done gone Now how can a poor boy get back home When his last old dollar is done gone

I've drank and I've rambled around I've drank and I've rambled around Now the time has come when I wanna go home But my last old dollar is done gone

Now the east bound train is done run Now the east bound train is done run Now that train is done run and left me all alone 'Cause my last old dollar is done gone
