

Are You Sure You're Alive?

Birds of Tokyo

This rhythm rhyme you beat at me
Through angel eyes it's too hard to see
I cant believe I'm all alone in this room
You wage war on me now

This rhythm rhyme it's too much to bear
Through angel eyes I'm alone in this stare
I cant believe I got addicted to you
You wage war on me now

Are you sure you're alive?
Are you sure you can make this feel right?
Are you breathing for me?
Give me some sign you'll wait for me now
My child

I read the paper man, Imma tearing back another page
You got the best of this, now I'm carving my own way
Am I still supposed to feel, is this still supposed to feel?
You wage war on me now

Are you sure you're alive?
Are you sure you can make this feel right?
Are you breathing for me?
Give me some sign you'll wage war this time

Sell it to me, sell it to me
Sell it to me and I will never reply
Sell it to me, sell it to me
Sell it to me and I will never reply
Give it to me, give it to me
Give it to me and I will never reply
Sell it to me, sell it to me
Sell it to me, you better

Are you sure you're alive?
Are you sure you can make this feel right?
Are you breathing for me?
Give me some sign you'll wait this time
