

Waiting For You

Black Heaven

The night is dark and shapeless
I can hear the angels sing
I taste your breath on my skin
Or was it just the wind
And when I close my eyes
You stand here next to me
But I know this is not Reality

I try to embrace
An untiring faith
And all that I do
Is waiting for you (Im waiting for you)

the night is deep and silent and when the clouds disperse my hope and all my love fulfil the universe
I linger in the coldness
Dream of another time
Where we walk through the darkness
Your hand in mine
