

Fields of Unforgiveness

Black Label Society

Lakes of fire filled with regret
Took your chances, your losses won't let you forget

So you think that it's over?
So you think that it's done?
The fields of unforgiveness never die, they've just began

You thought you'd elude life's sorrow, emptiness and grief
The oceans of life's contempt drown the liars and the thieves

So you think that it's over?
So you think that it's done?
The fields of unforgiveness never die, they've just began