

Hideaway

Black Majesty

When there's nothing
Nothing left to fight
Got your back against the wall
Bent and contort
Just walking the edge of the blade again
When there's darkness
Let it take your soul
The silence screaming
Tearing deep into the core

Better hide your heart
When getting ready for the fall
Better hide your heart
Get ready to survive

Rise, don't hide away
When there's only sorrow
To defy all that is to conform you
Rise, don't hide away
Don't have time to borrow
Just live for tomorrow

Time to face it
Face adversity
Let the demons locked inside
Face inside you then subside
If there's darkness
Don't let it cloud your soul
The silence will come screaming
Deep into the core
