

Tonight the Moonlight Let Me Down

Black Star Riders

We kinda fell apart together
Back in the days of no surrender
Wishing things would only get better
But they never do

I'm always leaving but I'll never leave
I'm always going but I'll never go
I'm always thinking but I'll never know
I'm always running but I'm moving slow

Whatever you've been you were always the one
Whatever you did you should always have done
Wherever you went you should never have gone
I can't wait 'til you come back home

Tonight the moonlight let me down
I'm still here and you're not around
You're outta sight and you're outta sound
Tonight the moonlight let me down

Do you still remember?
Making out under stormy weather
Wishing it would last forever
But it never does

You're always laughing but you never smile
You're always crying but you never cry
Got all the answers but you're wondering why
Can't win for losing but you gotta try

Whatever you've been you were always the one
Whatever you did you should always have done
Wherever you went you should never have gone
I can't wait 'til you come back home

Tonight the moonlight let me down
I'm still here and you're not around
You're outta sight and you're outta sound
Tonight the moonlight let me down
Tonight the moonlight let me down
I'm still here and you're not around
You're outta sight and you're outta sound

Tonight the moonlight let me down
Tonight the moonlight let me down

Whatever you've been you were always the one
Whatever you did you should always have done
Wherever you went you should never have gone
I can't wait 'til you come back home

Tonight the moonlight let me down
I'm still here and you're not around
You're outta sight and you're outta sound
Tonight the moonlight let me down
Tonight the moonlight let me down
I'm still here and you're not around

You're outta sight and you're outta sound
