

Stormy Waters

Black

I'd call it through, I've seen the signs
Won't waste my time any longer
You made your choice so go let it loose
Go play and lose with the rainbows
Where I don't know who I see when I look at you now

Did you lie down for him?
Did you give yourself to him and
Dip your stupid toes in stormy waters?

You look lonely and cold, a thousand years old
And your eyes don't show what you have but what you've sold
I don't need to know
But I want to know
Let it all come on, let the bad times roll
I don't know who I see when I look at you now

Did you lie down for him?
Did you give yourself for him
And dip your stupid toes in stormy waters?
You crossed the bridge of sighs as he spattered your insides
To sink up to your neck in
Stormy waters
