

Magic Eight Ball

Blowsight

Somebody tell me how to get this right
It's like a wedding turning into a fight
I broke the beast with something beautiful
And now, I'm under control
I got a feeling there is something about her
Who could be this stupid to go out without her?
So don't you dare say no this time
They're gonna push me off the bridge tonight

So can the one I do not know
Can the one I won't discover be the one to hold me down?
Can the one I do not know call this modern desperation
You learn your ground

Somebody tell me how to change this ride
A lesson learned is just a lesson denied
You can't believe a devil without a soul
Cos now you're under control

Yeah now you're under control
Ain't got no time, ain't got no reason
Now you're under control

So can the one I do not know
Can the one I won't discover be the one to hold me down?
Can the one I do not know call this modern desperation
You learn your ground

To win this round
And wear my crown
I'm safe and sound
Defy your gods

Wrote about this story grown
Grows from the other side
So tell it to my face, I can stand criticism
Delusional mind and a terrorized vision

So can the one I do not know
Can the one I won't discover be the one to hold me down?
Can the one I do not know call this modern desperation
You learn your ground
So can the one I do not know
Can the one I won't discover be the one to hold me down?
Can the one I do not know call this modern desperation
You learn your ground
