

Put It In

Blue October

It wouldn't work couldn't work
Now it's everybody wants some
Whose to say whose to say
That we'd never really go far.

I wouldn't care wouldn't care
If that's all you ever hoped for
"I used to follow you down,
Now I follow you"
Why walk away, walk away
And take the fun out of a Cold War
"I used to follow you down,
Now I follow you"

Everybody wants some
It's always just the same same same
Everybody needs some
I am the only one to blame.

I never knew my life
Could be remarkable
Because I always used to play
Just the tip.
But I know, I know that I
Could live like this forever
If I go ahead and put it in
Everybody's saying that it's possible
But it never seemed
To make any sense
Now I know, I know
That I can stay like this forever
If I go ahead and put it in.

Head on collision my decision
Is I'm never gonna back down
So bite the pillow while I watch you
Like I'm DEA to crack town.

I'm the roof, you're siding
The tooth from Tyson biting
Hard as a piranha
Take a look at my big wrecking balls
So this is me inviting
You to come out from hiding
Is this what you call fighting?
Wrong in righting nature calls.
Everybody wants some
It's always just a shame shame shame
Everybody needs some
I am the only one to blame

I never knew my life
Could be remarkable
Because I always used to play
Just the tip.
But I know, I know
That I could live like this forever

If I go ahead and put it in
Everybody's saying that it's possible
But it never seemed
To make any since
Now I know, I know
I can stay like this forever
If I go ahead and put it in.

I can be one
I can reach for the sun
Tear my old world down
To build back up
I know that promises fade
From the hell that I've made
When I'm circling the drain
I have no one else to blame
