

5 A.M.

Blue Rodeo

With every breath we grow further apart
Sometimes I wish we didn't know how to talk
And as we sort out the who said you said
Who said I said
I only wish I came a little better prepared

5 am these things will pass
Tomorrow won't be our last
Funny how I'm always here with you
I never meant to change your world
Or change your point of view
I only want to hold you when I feel a little blue
I hope you know I'll always be there for you

I know by now I should be sound asleep
But my mind won't let me it feels like it's going to explode
I'll say that you're right
If you just say that I'm right
Let's hit the hay and call this case closed

5 am things get so strange
Tomorrow's a brand new day
Funny how I'm always here with you
I never meant to change your world
Or change your point of view
I only want to hold you when I feel a little blue
I hope you know I'll always be there for you
