Graveyard

Blue Rodeo

Well I love these nervous breakdowns
And I love these new skins
And I love that you were brave enough
To sleep with all my friends

And I love these messy ends
And I love these new beginnings
And I love that you keep pounding
On this drum inside my head

And the once and future destiny Of your self fulfilling prophesy No longer the enemy You accept it willingly

And all the demons are saints
And the saints I'll never trust
In the graveyard of my heart
So let's go kick over tombstones
In the graveyard of my heart
