

We Are Immortal

Bob Catley

I believe there's a holy ground
Where we will be safe from the spells around
And I believe there will be an end
To the hunt that forced us to live in the dark
And hide from our lives

Only minutes before the dawn
Run and hide before the night is gone
Another day on the battlefield
Do as you told, don't show what you feel
Pretend is not for real

We can see it all through our evil dreams
The truth is not always what it seems
The tyrants will fall and we will rule
Let them hear our call
We can see it all through our evil dreams
The truth is not always what it seems
The tyrants will fall and we will rule
So let them hear our call
We are immortal
We are immortal

I believe there's a place for us
Far from the war, far from our loss
Our souls can't be slaves
And our dreams can never be forced to change
Forced to disappear

We can see it all through our evil dreams
The truth is not always what it seems
The tyrants will fall and we will rule
Let them hear our call
We can see it all through our evil dreams
The truth is not always what it seems
The tyrants will fall and we will rule
So let them hear our call
We are immortal

We can see it all through our evil dreams
The truth is not always what it seems
The tyrants will fall and we will rule
Let them hear our call
We can see it all through our evil dreams
The truth is not always what it seems
The tyrants will fall and we will rule
So let them hear our call
We are immortal
We are immortal
We are immortal
