

One Good Reason

Bob Mould

In the forest all the trees are turning black
And sorry's the only way I know how to react
I can feel it coming on
I can tell it's coming on
Another minor disagreement
Another something else gone wrong

Give me one good reason
Yeah just give me one more chance
And I might take it back

The words, all the words we never say
Well I don't wanna be the one to tell you life shouldn't be this way
But I'm a fool, I've been known to play the fool
But I'm not kidding anymore, I know I'm happy being here with you

What's the use in trying if you'll never understand
You could make me understand if you just
Give me one good reason and I'll never ask again
Give me one good reason just make sure I understand
All I need is one good reason, nothing more or less
Give me one good reason, one good reason, nothing less
Nothing less
Nothing less
Nothing less than less than

What's the use in trying if you'll never understand
You could make me understand if you just
Give me one good reason just make sure I understand
All I need is one good reason, nothing more or less
Give me one good reason, one good reason, nothing less
All I need is one good reason
