

Sherry

Bobby Caldwell

Sherry, I know there are things I lack
If making some changes
Could mean that you'd take me back

And maybe
You haven't got the time to chat
Just tell me Sherry
What would be wrong with that?

United, divided
And still I've decided
That I just want to be your fool
Oh, Sherry
I'll do what you want me to

I'm dying but trying
And still you keep sighing
As you sip at your sweet vermouth
Oh, Sherry
Why can't you see the truth?

No matter how hard I try
It drives me crazy
Just keeping you satisfied

And, Sherry
Why can't you see my side?
When will you realize
Our love can't be denied?
