

Just Fine

Bomshel

You say that we need to talk
But you ain't said a word
But trust me baby, it's all crystal clear
You're doin' anything and everything
To dance around the hurt
Tryin' hard to muster up a tear

But save yourself the trouble
Boy, don't go wastin' your time
Like you're wastin' mine
I don't need your reasons why
Don't you worry your pretty little head about me
I'll be just fine
Oh, I'll be just fine

You need some time, you need some space
And I deserve much more
You say you've changed, we're in a different place
Yeah, it's not me and blah blah blah
I've heard it all before
So before you go and throw your breath away

Save yourself the trouble
Boy, don't go wastin' your time
Like you're wastin' mine
I don't need your reasons why
Don't you worry your pretty little head about me
I'll be just fine

This time when you walk out the door
It won't be like it was before
When you wake up and want to change your mind

Save yourself the trouble
Boy, don't go wastin' your time
Like you're wastin' mine
I don't need your reasons why
Don't you worry your pretty little head about me
No, don't you worry your pretty little head about me
I'll be just fine (Fine)
Oh, I'll be just fine (Fine)
