Clouds In My Coffee

Bonnie Tyler

- 1. Oh do you remember the moment When the sky turned to a sad shade of grey As darkness crept over the ocean Then you turned - To walk away I looked to the place at the table Your face - No longer I'd see The reflection I saw in your coffee Was a bitter reflection of me
- R: Clouds in my coffee
 And tears in my heart
 That's what I'm feeling
 You've torn me apart
 Clouds in my coffee
 It could be a dream
 But as you walk away
 It's all I can see
- 2. I still remember the feeling
 As the night woke up to the dawn
 To awake and realise the meaning
 What my eyes had focused upon
 These rooms so cold and so empty
 Just spaces where photographs were
 The echoing silence assured me
 That you really were no longer here
- R: Clouds in my coffee...
