First Fires

Bonobo

Now do you see it? The dream is gone Fatal fire, moving on Why do you need it in the ways to come Over you, the undertone

Honestly, I can't believe it's burning again Like the first fires Run from fences, you don't have to pretend First fires

And if you find it don't let go For a time keep it going Don't even fight it, the leaves fall Fall for me, for every blow

Honestly, I can't believe it's burning again Like the first fires Run from fences, you don't have to pretend First fires

And all the memories are calling me back For the first fires Honestly, I can't believe it's burning again Like the first fires

Like the first fires

Honestly, I can't believe it's burning again Honestly, I can't believe it's burning again Like the first fires
