

Dressed In Grief

Boomkat

Every day is a struggle
And trust me this I know
I wake up in the morning feeling so alone
I wonder what will take this black cloud away
It hurts so bad to think I was born
Well, I was born this way

There's a big black train
Rushing through my head
It's blowing out black smoke, it pollutes my brain
I can't see clearly through these eyes of mine
I'm not even sure if I'ma thinkin' straight
Right now, right now, yea, oh oh

Thinking it's how I ride
And maybe it's how I leave
But somewhere along the way
I got dressed full of grief
Maybe love is what I need
Doubling that clarity
I cry in my arms
I cry in my own arms

Every day is a struggle
And trust me this I know (I know)
I wake up in the middle of the night feeling so alone
I sit on my couch and stare at the walls
I'm just looking for some answers
That's okay 'cause I'm getting loved

Ride this rollercoaster
I'm gonna ride this roller coaster
I'm gonna ride this roller coaster
Ooh I'm gonna ride this roller coaster, yeah
Ride it, ride it, ride it, ride it, ride it, ride it
Ride it all the way home

Maybe love is what I need
Bring to me, serenity
I'm dressed in grief
Bet on me
Maybe love is what I need
Bring to me, serenity
I'm dressed in grief
That's on me

Maybe love is what I needed
Bring to me, serenity
I'm dressed in grief
Bet on me
Maybe love is what I need
Bring to me
I'm dressed in grief
Guaranteed

God loves you
God loves me too, yea

Get some sunshine, get em woah eh
Get some sunshine, down on here
Get some sunshine
