

My Peace

Borealis

Why did you leave me, how could she let you go
lying in her room alone
I'm lost without you,
I need you by my side
Looking for answers, watching the world collide

Mother may I have this wish
My last effort to make my peace
Take me to a better place
It's the life that I deserve

Drowning in anger, drinking my pain away Losing myself to this, losing day by day
I see you there resting quietly, her poem to the angels
Her moment to be free

Father may I have this wish
My last effort to make my peace
Take me from your hollow world
Your hell is not for me

Robbed of ambition,
I tried to live my life
No stars tonight,
just a broken destiny

DAD
"I no longer see a reason to continue on this broken path Being taken from day after day has left me with nothing left to give I do not hate you I feel sorry for what you have become
And what you have turned me into I hope for you this place I go to forgiving And we can be as we once were
This world has lost it's light I'm sorry"

Mother may I have this wish
My last effort to make my peace
Take me to a better place
It's the life that I deserve
