

Absolution

Born of Osiris

new beginnings erase the weathered plains our direction shapes this diverse industrial age will we never forget will we choose to remain in the age of traditional ritual gravity has brought us towards the universal living looking up and seeing the universal core overwhelming passion in all of us keeps on turning forever flowing 'til the sun dies out if your light subsides you we will observe the fade face to face with the forsaken face to face with your mistakes You know you can't see what you believe you know you can't see this see what you believe

rejuvenate transformation all of these pieces contained in the inner body unify and formulate to design new clarity look into their eyes feasting on absolution as they capitalize the condemnation

You know you can't see what you believe
rejuvenate transformation