

Rage Flows

Born Ruffians

Infancy trumps a want to do more
Keeps things slow
Where all the flies go in winter time
When it snows
Vanity trumps desire to grow
And it shows
Where the rain goes when the sun shines
In rainbows

Bad weather, pain and tension
The young girl in the mirror checking out her scars
But she's never gonna live one second of life
Until she lets the rage flow
Swaps it for paranoia

There's broken glass everywhere
Why was she so indisposed?
See the flies go
Up in the heart of rainbows

Forgetting not to mention the sickness of apathy
Be cynical of course
'cause you're never gonna live one second of life
Until you let your age show
Swap it for the paranoia

Infancy trumps a want to do more
Where all the flies go in winter time

Bad weather, pain and tension
The young girl in the mirror checking out her scars
But she's never gonna live one second of life
Until she lets her rage flow
Swaps it for the paranoia