

Spread so Thin

Born Ruffians

I had a dream
We met as friends
You smiled as you reached out and shook my hand
Said clocks are playing drums
Gotta find the measure
Clean fingernails won't find no treasure
Won't find no treasure

Promises could never pay for medicine
To fix the wounds of how you've been
Spread so thin
So dance and twirl
Your broken dreams could fill the world
So do just like they tell you, girl
Spread so thin

I had a dream
We came to see her

It wasn't like it was yesterday
Uh huh, we'll see
We'll grab a beer
They're might be pain but I have no fear
I have no fear

Promises could never pay for medicine
To fix the wounds of how you've been
Spread so thin
So dance and twirl
Your broken dreams could fill the world
So do just like they tell you, girl
Spread so thin

And promise to
Whenever love is blinding you
What you've got inside of you
Don't spread so thin
