

Tunnel Vision

Boston Manor

You couldn't see the cliff ahead
Cause you were staring at the wheel
Love was on the radio
How did the music make you feel?
You meant well I know you did
But these wounds will never heal
And I hope that your brakes don't work

(I'm losing my grip on you)

Your tunnel vision is killing me slowly
Baby I'm dreaming and everyone's lonely
We're still headed for the edge
We're still headed for the edge

You're a mess that I should've cleaned
You're a tired old routine
And you're dragging me down with you
You're dragging me down with you
You're a broken chandelier
You're a song I hate to hear
And you're dragging me down with you
You're dragging me down with you

(I'm losing my grip on you)

Your tunnel vision is killing me slowly
Baby I'm dreaming and everyone's lonely
We're still headed for the edge
We're still headed for the edge

Everyone's resentful and love has torn us apart
We should've just been happy but we had to leave our mark
They never gave us choices
They never gave us ours
We never had a reason to ever leave the car

Your tunnel vision is killing me slowly
Baby I'm dreaming and everyone's lonely
We're still headed for the edge
We're still headed for the edge
