For The Love Of You

Well, well well well Drifting on a memory Ain't no place I'd rather be than with you, yes Loving you, well well well Day will make the way for night All we need is candlelight And a song, ooh, soft and long Well well, like to be We're alone with a love unlike no other Sad to see, a new horizon slowly coming into view I want to be living for the love of you All that I'm giving is for the love of you Lovely as a ray of sun That touches me when the morning comes Feels good to me Well, my loving me, loving me

Smoother then a gentle breeze Blowing from my mind with ease Soft as can be When you're loving me, when you're loving me I love to be Riding the waves of love enchanted with your touch It seems to me We can sail together in and out of mystery

I want to be living for the love of you All that I'm giving is for the love of you

I know that I'm living for the love of you, oh yes I do All that I'm giving, giving is for the love of you

Paradise and heaven things can't feel as secure again You're the key This I see Now and then I lose my way Using words I try to say what I feel Yeah, this is so real, so real I might as well, sign my name on a card that could say it better Time will tell Cause it seems that I've done just about all that I can do, I can do

I want to be living for the love of you, oh yes I do All that I'm giving is for the love of you I wanna be living for the love of you, oh yes I do All that I'm giving is for the love of you Each and every day I'm living for the love of you Said that I'm giving for the love of you Boyz II Men
