

Missing

Boyz II Men

Words of wisdom, tell me how it's done, a way to ease my pain?
We both see notes in the air as we breathe
Trying to discover our harmonies
The tears in your eyes describe where all the hope has been
If only I could turn back the time, so I could make you mine

I love you, even though my dreams will never come true
I should let it go and start a new day today
But easier said than done, can't stay away
I miss you, if I could gently hold you in my arms
I'd keep you close, you'll never drift afar
Through reflections of the sun, shadows of the stars baby

Though the feelings of lust I've felt, they seem to come and go
I hear sounds that realize the pain, bittersweet melodies
Colored by the tones of love, the sky provides to us
Everlasting signs of faith, more than words can say

I love you, even though my dreams will never come true
I should let it go and start a new day today
But easier said than done, can't stay away
I miss you, if I could gently hold you in my arms
I'd keep you close, you'll never drift afar
Through reflections of the sun, shadows of the stars baby

Capturing the sights of daylight fading out as the moon glows
I'll close my eyes tonight and pray oh

I love you, even though my dreams will never come true
I should let it go and start a new day today
But easier said than done, can't stay away
I miss you, if I could gently hold you in my arms
I'd keep you close, you'll never drift afar
Through reflections of the sun, shadows of the stars baby
