

Cerebral Degeneration

Brain Drill

You stand and watch, powerless
Desperately wishing to help
As the one you hold close thrashes about
Knowing their mind will unavoidably melt

Unsafe to themselves
Unsafe to all those around
The past impales and tightens it's claws
The future lets the open wounds bleed

The inner walls of the skull close in Exhaustive mental implosion begins
Indescribable terror completely consumes
Staring straight into wordless doom

Removed from everyone and everything they know

You stand and watch, powerless
Desperately wishing to help

Wide eyes stare out, yet consciousness is hollowed

Void, Black, Lost, Go
