

Devotion

Breakbot

You are all I think about
Keep me sulking and down
But you fill me with so much emotion
That it stole my devotion to you

My mind made up
Been dealing with the faulty intuition
Had too much, call my bluff
But I can never get enough
You need to give it up
Giving without love's no great addiction
I don't wanna lose you like before
We're not gonna play by your rules no more

No, the rules weren't made for me
I thought that you should know
I could never set you free

You are all I think about
Keep me sulking and down
But you fill me with so much emotion
That it stole my devotion to

You are all I think about
Keep me sulking and down
But you fill me with so much emotion
That it stole my devotion to

You are all I think about
Keep me sulking and down
But you fill me with so much emotion
That it stole my devotion to

You are all I think about
Keep me sulking and down
But you fill me with so much emotion
That it stole my devotion to you

Together's not for us
When the trips are down we start believing
Gently fall apart, our empty hearts
It brings us back to the start, baby
It's getting dangerous
The writing's on the wall, can be deceiving
I don't wanna think of you no more
Lord, won't you give a man what he's praying for?

No, your heart was made for me
I thought that you should know
I can never set you free

You are all I think about
Keep me sulking and down
But you fill me with so much emotion
That it stole my devotion to

You are all I think about

Keep me sulking and down
But you fill me with so much emotion
That it stole my devotion to

You are all I think about
Keep me sulking and down
But you fill me with so much emotion
That it stole my devotion to you
