

You Should Know

Breakbot

It ain't the fancy things that you give to me
Even though you know I ain't mad at that
It's all about the times that you spend with me
When I was dumb enough?, Hey-ey

And even know I couldn't get you everything
You ain't the type to be mad at that,
Cuz all you want to do is give your love to me,
And baby I love you back, Hey-ey

You should know that I love you
You should know that I care for you baby
You should know that I want you
You should know by the way that I stare

You should know that I love you
You should know that I care for you baby
You should know that I want you
You should know

It ain't the sexy things that you wear for me
Even though you know I ain't mad at that
It's all about the times that you spend with me
When I was dumb enough, Hey-ey

And even though I'm out of time every week
You ain't the type to be mad at that
Cuz all you want to do is give your love to me
And baby I love you back, Hey-ey

You should know that I love you
You should know that I care for you baby
You should know that I want you
You should know by the way that I stare

You should know that I love you
You should know that I care for you baby
You should know that I want you
You should know by the way that I stare

I love you oooo babe, and you know I won't do you wrong
So just take some time
You got to do a little time?
And believe that your mine?

Cuz I love you, oooo babe
And you know you can't do me wrong
So just take some time
You got to take a little time?
And believe that your mine?

You should know
You should know
You should know
