

When Silence Breaks

Breakdown of Sanity

"This friday, a new legend begins, where the old one, left off."

There is no hope no flavors on my tongue I close my eyes and pray there is no hope, oh god I'm holding my breath and realize what I have done these fucking countless eyes they're looking down on me

I sleep with open eyes
god tell me, how will this end

I think I've lost you've opened my eyes pieces of me, they just fall away and there is nothing that I can do except to pray that there will come a day...

I feel the screams close to my fuckin' heart so close to my heart but I hope the day will come when we can forget my mind is screaming but my lips can't translate I tremble with every breath I take please pick me up

I can't lift off by myself oh my god!!
please pick me up
darling please

I try to hide the scars in me so blind, pins and needles buried in my eyes what's left of me

I have to say - goodbye just make this go away a goodbye with no second chance you said we'd never fade away

I sleep with open eyes
oh god, how will this end I see your glassy eyes
god tell me, how will this end

I wanna wake up from this nightmare
I wanna wake up in your arms
