All Messed Up

Breaking Point

I hope I never wake up I dream about you all the time now And I don't wanna face Another night without you here Someday, someway, somehow We will be together again You know I've always wanted Just to feel the touch of your love You know I've always hated Knowing how far apart we are Someday, someway, somehow We will be together again I just want you to know

Baby I'm all messed up in you You're far away But you're here with me Baby I'm all messed up in you You're all I need My everything

Every night i wake up Hoping that I'll find you here and There's not a day that goes by I don't think about your smile Someday, someway, somehow We will be together again I just want you to know

And I know that we will find a way To be together someday And I promise you that I won't leave I'll be here forever

I want you I need you I'm lost here without you I'm all messed up in you I hope i never wake up I dream about you all the time now.
