

Day by Day

Brendan James

In the back of my mind I see it
The easiest path to take
Whether I can believe it
I'll take it day by
And the beat of my heart, I know it
A life that I wanna make
Whether I can control it
I'll take it day by day

And the better I feel, the better I want to stay
Got ahead of myself and I never get in the way
I'll take it day by

Day by day
Day by day
And the better I feel, the better I want to stay
I'll take it day by day
Day by day

When the weight of my thoughts is heavy
When I'm lying up half awake
And the dream that I had forgets me
I'll take it day by day
When the quiet I need has found me
When the clouds have blown away
When a great slow down surrounds me
I'll take it day by day

And the better I feel, the better I want to stay
Got ahead of myself and I never get in the way
I'll take it day by

Day by day
Day by day
And the better I feel, the better I want to stay
Day by day
