

White Whale

Brendan James

I'm getting the feeling I should not be living, the way I do
These highs and these lows, I can barely control, I'ma hold it through

Chasing a dream, caught in a seam, what does it mean
Catching a break, riding a wave, watching it fade away

You cannot imagine the weight on my shoulders I feel tonight
I wanna be someone who know in their heart that they're doing it right

Walking around, feet on the ground, looking for sounds
Catching a break, riding the wave, watching it fade away

Baby, what I've been looking for
Is that white whale on the ocean floor
Baby, what I've been seeking out
Is that wisdom I was wise without
Maybe what I've been looking for
Is that new life on another shore
Or maybe it's someone to love
Yeah, maybe it's someone to love

Sun on my shoulder, and now that you're older I'm blessed I know
The present around me, the future before me, I keep the flow
Holding the line, searching for signs, seeking to find
Just wanna see, just wanna be, just wanna feel complete

Baby, what I've been looking for
Is that white whale on the ocean floor
Baby, what I've been seeking out
Is that wisdom I was wise without
Maybe what I've been looking for
Is that new life on another shore
Or maybe it's someone to love
Yeah, maybe it's someone to love

Someone to love
Someone to love

Chasing a dream, caught in a seam, what does it mean
Catching a break, riding a wave, watching it fade away

Baby, what I've been looking for
Is that white whale on the ocean floor
Baby, what I've been seeking out
Is that wisdom I was wise without
Maybe what I've been looking for
Is that new life on another shore
Or maybe it's someone to love
Yeah, maybe it's someone to love
