

World On The Streets

Brendan James

You saw the truth and it made you sad
You saw a life that you know you never had
And your frozen blood started warming up again
Love was lost in the indecision
Pacified by your television
And you hope the chance remains to live with a beating heart again
And heaven knows I'm on your side

The world is on the streets tonight
Calling for a sacrifice
Like all we ever had was nothing
Like all we ever were was right
The world is on the streets tonight

Nevermind what you never had Never trust what's afraid to trust you back
It's a sordid race we run under one relentless sun
Like a spark in a dying engine
Beaten down for your good intentions
You are the face of what's to come
More than any single one
And heaven knows I'm on your side

The world is on the streets tonight
Calling for a sacrifice
Like all we ever had was nothing
Like all we ever were was right
The world is on the streets tonight
Every love is on the line
Everybody's feeling something
Don't you wanna feel alive?
The world is on the streets tonight

The world is on the streets tonight
Every love is on the line
And Everybody's feeling something
Don't you wanna feel alive?
The world is on the streets tonight
Tonight I feel alive
The world is on the streets,
I don't wanna sleep,
I don't wanna leave your side
