

Let It Shine

Brian Wilson

Let it shine, oh, let it shine
Let it shine, oh, let it shine
Let it shine, oh, let it shine
Let it shine, oh, let it shine

Shadows fall, the ocean calls to me
The night is still, she's where I wanna be
The stars all send, their silver light to me
Forever shine on me eternally

I couldn't think of anything
That gives me more than what you bring
The color of an endless dream
Let it shine, let it shine, woah

There comes a burning fire, it fills me with desire
And all my troubles disappear
Feels like it's going through me, whatever you do to me
Your words are magic to my ears, woah, let it shine

A flame that grows and burns so deep in me
Somebody cries for all the world to see
Another time, there will be ecstasy
Another place, you will be next to me

Of all the lives that I've been through
I never really thought it was true
That all I ever needed was you
Let it shine, let it shine

Let it shine, oh, let it shine
Let it shine, oh, let it shine
Let it shine, oh, let it shine
Let it shine, oh, let it shine

There comes a burning fire, it fills me with desire
And all my troubles disappear
Feels like it's going through me, whatever you do to me
Your words are magic to my ears, woah, let it shine

There comes a burning fire, it fills me with desire
And all my troubles disappear
Feels like it's going through me, whatever you do to me
Your words are magic to my ears
