

The Last Song

Brian Wilson

Hold on tight and everything will be alright
I've never really felt this way before

Don't let go
There's still time for us so let's take it slow
I wish that I could give you so much more

La la la la la
La la la
La la la la

La la la la la
La la la la la
La la la la

Far away
Maybe we'll be coming back someday

Together in the end
To sing with you again

I've never really felt this way before

Don't be sad
There was a time and place for what we had
If there was just another chance for me to sing to you

La la la la la la
La la la la...

There's never enough time for the ones that you love
There's never enough time for the ones that you love
There's never enough time for the ones that you love
