

The Right Time

Brian Wilson

Whatever happened to me and you
And everything we've been going through
So many pieces but never in a very straight line

Right could it be the right
Could it be the right time
For getting together
Right could it be the right
Could it be the right time
I'm thinking forever

So many times we get fooled again
With everything that's been happening
Like changing places with someone
In the back of the line
But not this time

Right could it be the right
Could it be the right time
For thinking it over
Right could it be the right
Could it be the right time
For getting to know her

Right time
Could it be the right time
Right time
Could it be the right time
Right time
Could it be the right time

Right could it be the right
Could it be the right time
For thinking it over
Right could it be the right
Could it be the right time
For getting to know her