

Done for Good

Buried In Verona

I'm focusing on everything
They forced me to stop
So I'm starting again
I feel so alive
I'll take what's mine
You get what you give. it all just takes some time
I'm searching for a saviour
But the prayers won't reach the end
I've got to leave this life behind me
Just push me from the edge
I'm breaking the cycle
And I'm starting this again
I'm taking the high road
And I'm dreaming of the end
It's all I know
Tried talking to God
But fell on deaf ears
Changing the tide means forgetting your fears
There's no rescue
No help from above
You'll find in yourself how to change
what's on the cards
I'm searching for a saviour
But the prayers won't reach the end
I've got to leave this life behind me
Just push me from the edge
I'm breaking the cycle
And I'm starting this again
I'm taking the high road
And I'm dreaming of the end
It's all I know
Woke up, I'm alive now
I can see past the horizon
See the shimmer on the waters edge
As the calm breeze hits against my chest
I'm not done for good
I'm not done for good
