

Come Alive

Burning Brides

better days are upon me since I sold you my soul I wake up every morning with the milk in my bones you can lay me down on a bed made out of lit cigarettes I had to break away from a world that's full of marionettes
oh yeah

there's a way I can burn in heaven every single night
I've been dying to make myself come alive

people come and you know that people always will go yeah but before I saw you I knew that you'd be someone I'd know you're always doing the things that everyone is talking about yeah and before we're through well you know that I will scream and I
