

Surrender

Bush

You light up my night
You lay yourself out
You move like silk does
You move without sound
We've always been one
Always been brave
I'm crazy for you
Like you've been crazy for days
All the lovers on the west side
All the lovers on the east side
All the lovers on the south side
All the lovers on the dark side

Come on surrender
Give yourself to me
Come and surrender
For what you believe
I talk to myself
But I sing for strangers

You're the poet of hearts
You give till it hurts
You're the trouble in me
And it's getting worse
You're the lover I crave
You're the reason I break
Nothing gets me closer than you
All the lovers on the west side
All the lovers on the east side
All the lovers on the south side
All the lovers on the dark side

Come on surrender
Give yourself to me
Come on surrender
For what you believe
I talk to myself but I
Sing for strangers

You always know
When things go wrong
When things go wrong
Always know

All the lovers is on the west side
All the lovers is on the east side
All the lovers is on the south side
All lovers
Come on surrender
Give yourself to me
Come on surrender
For what you believe
I talk to myself but I
Sing for strangers

Come on surrender
Give yourself to me

Come on surrender
I'm not the enemy
I talk to myself
But I sing for strangers
And I try
And I try
And I try