

The Woman Who Fell to Earth

Cadaveria

Evanescent like the memory of a dream
Bright powder of pure crystals
She is the warrior of the stars and she was made to fly high
Deeply-rooted feet on the ground

The new era is coming through the mountains and the seas
You can see the energy, you can hear it in the wind

Radiating around the moon

See the cortex dancing
She is the vivid glow that shines
Look at the mountain in silence and her self disappears away

Listen to the dream of time and space
Expanding in the Universe
Watch the ash shaped by the fire
What it is and is not

Radiating around the moon

See the cortex dancing
Her glowing is shining
Look at the mountain in silence and her self disappears away

She is the warrior of the stars and she was made to fly high
She is the vivid glow that shines

She is without name, so as not to divide
She is presence, her aura expands and unites
She is presence, she creates the void
She creates energy, ethereal subtle energy

See the cortex dancing
She is the vivid glow that shines
Look at the mountain in silence and her self disappears away

The purity of water on her skin
